STATE WANTS 14,000 TO ENTER COLLEGES

Governor Urges Enrolment as Method of Serving Country's War Need.

Special Despatch to THE SUN.
ALBANT, Aug. 28.—Gov. Whitman has joined Thomas E. Finegan, acting University League and would like to have copies of the speeches to publish in urging 14,000 young men to enter New his paper. I asked Dr. Merkel about it York State colleges this fall with a view of joining the students army training corps from which will be picked many of the 13,866 officers for the army and navy which the State is called upon to furnish. will have quotes to furnish for such appointments, as 125,000 commissioned officers will be needed while the available supply is but 60,000.

President Wilson and the War Department are behind the plan for the out the country of a combination colle giate and military course; and in out-lining how the plan will work out under the new draft age law Commissioner

Finegan said to-night:
"When the colleges open the undergraduates 18 or more years of age will enlist in the students army training

"This will make them regular members of the army for the duration of the war, Undergraduates below 18 will of enlistment as soon as they become 18. To the men thus enrolled the War Department will give equipment and military instruction throughout the college year and the same, with travelling expenses and private's nay for a six weeks course of vate's pay for a six weeks course intensive training in a camp during the summer recess. The military instruc-tion with drill included is expected to occupy ten hours a week during the college year, but four of these hours will be devoted to allied subjects including mathematics, English, foreign languages, history, science, etc.

"Such a combination of college education and military instruction is re-tion any names, but that it was her cation and military instruction is reimpression the project had the interest of the German University League, Dr. Bernhard Dernberg, unofficial representative of the Kaiser; Dr. Heinrich Albert, commercial attache of the German Embassy, and Dr. Karl A. Cotton market showed renewed trength yesterday, with prices making new high records for the season. Reactionary feeling which had developed around the 35 cent level for October during Tuesday's trading was responsible for early declines, but recent sellers were much disappointed by the showing of the weekly weather report and prices advanced rapidly after its publication. Business was not particularly active or general, nor was there any excitement, although the advance from the early low level amounted to about $7.50 a bale, with October contracts selling at $35.50c. or 105 points net higher. That delivery advanced rapidly after its publication. Business was not particularly active or general, nor was there any excitement, although the advance from the early low level amounted to about $7.50 a bale, with October contracts selling at $5.50c., or 105 points net higher. That delivery closed at $5.25c., with the general list closing barely steady at net gains of 80 to 90 points. to 90 points.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of 15 to 25 points and active months sold 45 to 50 points net lower before the end of the first hour. The before the end of the first hour. The disposition to take profits on long contracts or to sell for a reaction after the big advance of the previous day was increased by expectations that the report of the Weather Bureau would show beneficial results from the Texas rains.
